By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Havana, March 5—The Spanish first class cruiser Almirante Oquendo arrived this morning from Spain and received a hearty welcome from the tugs and ferry boats on which were the civil and military authorities and different societies which had gone to meet her.

FLOW OF GOLD.

New York, March 5—The flow of gold from Europe is taken as an indication that the bankers are preparing for an emergency. The amount now in transit is $6,500,000. A still larger shipment will follow.

MEANING OF SICARD'S TELEGRAM.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, March 5—Admiral Sicard's telegram of yesterday stating the date when the report of the board of inquiry may be expected is indefinite is taken to mean that the board's work is not nearly completed. Several weeks may elapse before the verdict of the court will be known. Meantime the work of putting the army in condition is going on. When the board reports each member will give his official opinion.

PRASLEY ENCAMPMENT.

Installation of Officers Last Night—An Oyster Supper.

The installation of officers of Prasley Encampment No. 10, I. O. O. F., took place last night. The following were the new officers installed:

W. J. Richardson, C. P.
J. B. Clendennin, H. P.
J. T. Matthews, S. W.
A. M. Seales, J. W.
J. T. Rankin, Scribe.
L. C. Howlett, Financial Scribe.
H. H. Cartland, Treasurer.

Of the installation ceremonies we cannot speak, but after the ceremonies were over an oyster supper was served at Mrs. Ellis' boarding house, about which there is no bond of secrecy.

Through the courtesy of Mr. L. C. Howlett, who was master of ceremonies this writer was invited, and without any rapping or password formalities, was admitted to the dining room along with the members of the camp. There were oysters—raw, stewed and fried, with coffee, chicken salad and the usual condiments, served in old-fashioned, hospitable style, and there were no restrictions or limitations as to quantity.

The members of the camp were much pleased to have, both at the installation and at the supper, Mr. T. H. Sprinkle, a visiting brother, from Charlotte.

An Interpreter of Shakespeare.

Mr. Louis James, the greatest living American interpreter of the heroic roles of the classics will be seen here on March 14th at the Academy of Music in a magnificent revival of Julius Caesar. The role of the Brutus has always been one of his greatest impersonations. He is particularly adapted to it, his heroic proportions, the leonine majesty of his face, his power and artistic attrition fitting themselves admirably to the character. In the last five years he has been acknowledged everywhere as the greatest living interpreter of the abused General, a fame not limited to America, but extending beyond the seas to England and the continent. Messrs. Wagenhals and Kemper, Mr. James' managers, have given him an exceptionally strong company and a magnificence of stage production which has rarely been equalled. The company is costumed by Maurice Herrman, of New York, on designs by Mme. Jahn, a noted authority on historical costumes.

Shaking Quakers.

An entertainment will be given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Whitsett on Church street next Thursday night for the benefit of West Market street church. The feature of the evening will be the "Shaking Quakers." Those desiring more particulars will go to see. The price of admission will be ten cents and refreshments will be served at the usual prices afterwards.

NORTH CAROLINA WOMEN

In the Debate with the University of Georgia Last Night.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Chapel Hill, March 5—The debate between the University of North Carolina and the University of Georgia was held in Gerrard Hall last night, and resulted in victory for Carolina. The query was, "Resolved: That the United States Annex Hawaii." Georgia had the affirmative, and her speakers were Messrs. W. F. Upshaw and J. S. Roberts. All the speeches were good and elicited frequent applause from the large crowd present. Messrs. W. J. Brogden and Ed. K. Graham represented our University.

Hon. W. A. London presided. In opening the debate he spoke in eloquent commendation of the movement for having inter-collegiate debates.

Judge H. G. Connor, Hon. F. A. Woodard and Judge W. A. Montgomery were the judges who decided the result of the contest.

While they were out after the close of the arguments the audience was favored with several pieces of splendid music rendered by members of the University Glee Club.

After being out twenty minutes the judges returned bringing a unanimous decision in favor of Carolina.

Did You Know It?

In conversation with a gentleman from Laurinburg this morning the Telegram man was informed that a recent examination of the census reports revealed the fact that Richmond county, North Carolina, was second only to one county in the United States in amount of cotton produced per acre. The first place belongs to Carroll county, Miss.

We venture the assertion that very few North Carolina people know that among all the boasted cotton growing sections of the south, Richmond county stands second in point of fertility; that is, it produces the second largest number of bales according to acreage.

The move signifies an intention on the part of the administration to descend upon the Philippine islands should war with Spain be decided upon.

TRINITY COLLEGE MATTERS.

Speakers and Managers Chosen for Commencement.

Correspondence Telegram.

Trinity College, N. C. Mar. 5—The two literary societies have held their elections for the public debate speakers and commencement managers. The Hesperian society elected J. P. Gibbons and H. M. Worth debaters for the annual public debate between the two societies and J. B. Needham orator. Mr. Edgar S. Bowling was elected chief marshal for commencement. The Columbian society elected G. H. Rev. R. L. Wharton, of Hampden Sidney, Va., addressed the student body Monday evening on the "Call to the Ministry." Mr. Wharton is sent out by the students of Hampden Sidney, to visit the educational institutions of North Carolina. Mr. Wharton's visit was much enjoyed.

Hon. Kope Elias spent last Sunday at the Park. His son and daughter are now in college. Mr. Elias was last year elected a member of the board of trustees and is a warm friend of the college.

The college community was sorry to hear of the death of Mr. J. H. Ferec, of Randleman. For several years he has been one of the trustees and has always been a great friend of the institution.

S. A. Stewart and J. T. Henry returned from the missionary gathering at Cleveland, Ohio, yesterday.

Resembles the Groom.

A good one is told on one of our local ministers. A few nights ago he was called into the country to perform a marriage ceremony. It is said the minister bears a striking resemblance to the groom.

After the rites were performed an old-fashioned bell-crowd appeared on the scene and rushing into the house mistook the minister for the groom and nabbed him, carrying him into the yard, where his ears were deafened by the sound of horns, tin pans and cow bells. It required much argument on the part of the minister, we are told, to persuade the jolly boys that he was not the right man.

A Horse Badly Injured.

About noon today a horse belonged to Dr. Petty was left standing, by a boy who was out collecting, up about the coal chute. Finding he was not fastened the horse ran away and became entangled in a barbed wire fence cutting himself severely across the breast and fore legs.

The injured animal is being attended by Dr. Lockwood, who pronounces the injuries serious. The doctor says if the horse gets well at all it will be at least six months before he can leave the stable.

AND THEY JUST LAUGHED

At the Way Uncle Sam's Leg Was Being Pulled.

On the north bound vestibule last night was a gay party of some fifteen or twenty from the land of the sky, the home of J. Wiley Shook, the stamping ground of the iridescent Mr. Pearson. From town and country, hill and vale, they had been gathered in through no fault of theirs and were being yanked along to Washington, D. C., to prove the "karekter" of Hamilton G. Ewart, sometime candidate for the Western District judgeship. They were of all shades of political opinion and belief, true blue, ring streaked and striped. They were discussing the occasion that took them to Washington and laughed much mirthful laughter at the way Uncle Sam's leg was being pulled. Five cents per mile each way was the tune of it, they said, and keep while at the Capital. One or two of the crowd said it was a beastly shame but they were not responsible for it. Mr. Butler had attacked the record of Judge Ewart and things had to be proved. The length of their stay in Washington they did not at all know but they did not seem worried about it.

MORE BOND TROUBLE.

Harrison Verdict Meets With General Approval.

Spe. al to THE TELEGRAM.

Winston, Mar. 5—The jury of the Harrison case at 7:30 o'clock last night brought in a verdict of not guilty. The verdict appears to give general approval around the city. This case has created a good deal of interest in the county and was one of the hardest fought cases had here in many years. The speeches were all good and each received much commendation from the citizens and visitors.

Judge Coble last night granted temporary injunction restraining the sheriff of Rockingham county for collecting the interest on the $5,000 issue of bonds issued January 1st, 1889 to Roanoke and Southern railroad until further order of court. The case comes up for trial at the next term of Rockingham court.

English Troops Moving.

Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Mar. 5—Information was received here today that a force of the Royal Niger Company's troops started from Lokaja toward Sokoto yesterday with a view to helping the Sultan of Sokoto to resist the French occupation of his territory of the Niger. The French should refuse to recross the Niger.

Picquart Pinked Him.

Berlin, March 5—An explosion, followed by a fierce fire, occurred in a coal mine at Segnowice, near Breslau, yesterday. Twenty dead miners have been taken out and others are still below.

A Full Bench.

When the motion docket was reached this morning Judge Robinson heard motions with a full bench. Masters Thomas Beall and Martin Douglas who were in the court house at the time were called up and given seats on either hand as associate justices. They were becomingly grave and dignified on the bench.

In the case of J. T. Scott vs. W. U. Telegraph company the jury returned a verdict for the defendant. Staples and Scott spoke for the plaintiff and Mr. Strong for the defense. An appeal was taken to the Supreme court on exceptions.

The case of Stratford vs. city of Greensboro was argued on the motion.

FOR A TREATY WITH SPAIN

Spanish Minister Consults The Chambers of Commerce.

THEY ARE NOT ENTHUSIASTIC.

Seem to Think Two Treaties Will Be Required and Prefer Present Cuban Tariff.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Madrid, Mar. 5—The government has consulted the chambers of commerce throughout the country respecting the proposed commercial treaty with the United States. The Bilbas chamber replies that considering the present conditions of the mercantile relations it can see no necessity for the treaty. If the negotiations are successful it is of the opinion that two treaties will be requisite. One between America and Spain and one between America and Cuba. The former would be reciprocal, the latter limited to concessions contained in the Cuba tariff law of 1897. This would maintain a protection of 32 per cent and a maximum of 20 per cent. It is believed that the other chambers will take the same action.

More Accurate Service in Greensboro Than Baltimore

Mr. C. M. Vanstory had his little girl's eyes examined in Baltimore last year and went with the prescription to one of the largest and best known optical houses there to have the glasses made up. FORTUNATELY one of the lenses got broken recently and was carried to the Greensboro Eye Specialist to be replaced. He saw at a glance that neither lens accorded with the prescription, and so changed them both. Mr. Vanstory sent the old lenses with an explanation to the oculist who had given the prescription and in reply received the following:

Greensboro, N. C.
We have been insuring for two years our bank building in the Southern Stock Mutual Insurance Company. We have received dividends amounting to $15.00 which have reduced the cost of our insurance that amount. We believe that the Company gives its policyholders as good indemnity as any other, and as all the profits over and above the stockholders ten per cent. are returned to the policyholders the claim of the Stock Mutual upon the patronage of the insuring public could not be stronger.

A YEAR OF M'KINLEY.

We have had just one year of Mr. McKinley and the republican party. The business of the country is recovering its tone somewhat after a period of inertness for which no political party could be held wholly responsible. The republican party claims full credit for the improved conditions. The main thing the republican party has done was to pass the Dingley tariff law. It has been a miserable failure, falling far short of providing sufficient revenue. It promised a reform of the currency; it has done nothing toward it. In foreign affairs the administration has blundered frightfully. Our policy has been undignified, almost apologetic. Anxiety to emphasize our "friendliness" to Spain has led to the loss of one of the best ships in our navy with most of its crew—an outrage that the administration has attempted to palliate to our own people. The chief place in the cabinet was given to a man in his dotage to make room for Mr. Hanna in the senate and we have been treated to the disgraceful spectacle of a cabinet officer utterly ignorant of the affairs of his own department, holding to a place of state as a mere childish bauble. Room having been made for Mr. Hanna an agent of the administration was sent to Ohio to coerce while Mr. Hanna bought and so secure that gentleman's re-election. At home a tariff law that is a failure and the reign of the boodler and peanut politician; abroad blundering and wavering—these are the fruits of the year of republicanism. If times have improved it has been despite republicanism, not through it. If honor is preserved it will be through the stalwart manhood of the American people.

Developments on the world's chess-board for the past twelve months or so, notably in Cuba and Armenia, indicate that what is known as the enlightened public sentiment of nations would not be any the worse for a few ares placed at the corners.

The Pope and Queen Victoria continue to disappoint those who have for some years announced with regret that their respective thrones would soon be vacant.

There is an excellent opportunity for the Rev. Baylus Cade to combine the duties of private secretary with those of his profession.

When the Mail and Express stops to commend General Lee the doctrine of total depravity is deprived of one shining support.

WHERE THE SHOE PINCHES.

Every square inch of the insignificant little Progress is Democratic, but we know that, however it may be in other places, there are some populists down this way who are not dogs enough to lick the hand that cuffs them, and while it is very, very naughty in them to fuse with the republicans just to beat us, it is human nature, or rather a part of human nature, that is brought out by the intolerant utterances of democratic papers.

We are not reading the press a lecture, we're too little; we are just airing our views. And our view is that this is the time for white men to stand shoulder to shoulder.—Jonesboro Progress.

All very true and very pretty; but suppose that immediately after the shoulder to shoulder business is over they fall to and punch one another's heads over the spoils? Nobody is cuffing any of the populists except the leaders, and of all the onery, voracious, loud-mouthed hungerers for pie and thirsters for swill that ever bussed and bargained away a lot of humbugged but honest men the populist leader in North Carolina is the superlative. He is the man who must be in at the fusing and must be paid liberally for his "florence" by a conspicuous seat in the synagogue. And two years hence the decent people of the state will sufficiently lambast the democrats for selling their birth right. That is where the shoe pinches.

SATURDAY'S LITERARY CHAT.

[All books and magazines mentioned below may be had at Wharton's book store.]

"The Land That is Coveted" in the March Cosmopolitan tells something of China, that being the land whither warships tend at present. Theron C. Crawford sums up the results of a special study of the Dreyfus case in a conclusion that he is altogether innocent. The serial, "Gloria Mundi," advances a stage, a not very interesting one. The hero is too nervous and too susceptible to spiritual side-drafts. Richard Harding Davis contributes a story, with the Cuban struggle as a background, that has the usual amount of fate that cannot quite decide whether to be fatal or melodramatic. There is a paper on the "Interior of a Pompeian House," and one on "Emperor William as a Huntsman," quite manifestly written by a most ardent admirer of that royal blow-hard who is, we are solemnly assured, "highly worthy of his ancestors." The assurance is timely.

The Century opens with a paper on the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky by John R. Proctor, formerly geologist of that state. The paper is entertaining and some of the illustrations are excellent while others are decidedly misleading. The camera may not lie, but it sometimes makes unfortunate mistakes. Those who are waiting for it get a new instalment of Mrs. Burton Harrison's "Good Americans." David Gray has two more of his "Galops"—decidedly the most clever bit of work seeing the light in the magazines just now. John Burroughs has one of his delightful bird pieces titled "Songs of American Birds" in this number. Somehow, though, one can never quite forget the figure of Mr. Burroughs lying in wait with an air rifle for the feathered marauders who were carrying off the cherries in his back garden. Possibly Mr. Burroughs liked cherries more. A queer kind of story is Dr. Mitchell's, "Adventures of Francois," with a thief and a fool for the leading characters. John Luther Long, who wrote the charming little "Madam Butterfly," jumps from Japan to Dutch Pennsylvania in "Ein Nix-Nutz." The dialect is jaw-splintering. There are other things to suit the taste.

The College Message for February got in late. There is an opening poem by H. L. Wheeler, a review of Mr. James Lane Allen's "Choir Invisible," "Cornwallis in Guilford," by J. M. Bandy, and another instalment of Prof. Raper's Church and Private Schools of North Carolina. The manuscript for the whole work is now in. It will consist of some 260 pages. The work was begun last September and Prof. Raper has devoted to it hours not employed in the class room. This chapter of the work deals with "Defunct Schools from 1835 to 1897." One of these was the old Caldwell Institute which opened here in 1836. Another was the Greensboro High School. The chapter contains much interesting matter concerning educational ventures more or less experimental.

The March Scribner's contains chapters nine and ten of Thomas Nelson Page's romance of the reconstruction, Red Rock. The story promises to be one of the best Mr. Page has so far done, and he has done nothing poor. Jonadab Leech is really one of the best drawn specimens of the northern camp follower, who became a carpet-bagger after the conflict, in the literature of the subject. Ocfave Thanet has a western story somewhat in the none too happy view of Hamlin Garland. "Memorise Juvabit" is a delicious bit of verse, almost as fine as Swinburne's "Forsaken Garden."

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Will Reid and Miss Welfare, of Winston, were in the city today returning from the south.

Hear Mr. and Mrs. A. Dobbins in illustrated song service at West Market street church tomorrow night.

Rev. Andrew P. Tye, of Wilmington, who has been visiting his sick father in this city, returned home today.

Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, Jr., accompanied by her son, Junius, Jr., and Miss Bettie Follin, passed through today returning to Winston from the Mardi Gras at New Orleans.

Miss Kate Kelly, of Carthage, spent yesterday and last night with friends at the Normal and went home today. She was returning from Baltimore where she has completed a business course.

Dr. Egbert W. Smith will preach at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow night the second sermon of the announced series. It will be a sermon for husbands and wives. Subject: "Home Making, or Married Happiness."

At the Lindsay concert at the Academy of Music on next Tuesday night the first floor will be reserved for white people exclusively and will have the usual ushers. The galleries will be for colored people exclusively and will have colored attendants. Tickets for the concert now on sale at Gardner's drug store.

We learn that the management of our telephone system intends giving all night service and four hours on Sundays as soon as the new switchboard arrives, which is expected in about a month. The best improved long distance 'phones are being put in now. This will make our system second to none in the state.

Rev. Jno. A. Wray, of Milledgeville, Ga., passed through last night stopping over between trains. Mr. Wray is a native tarheel and is one of the most brilliant young ministers of the south. He was formerly pastor of Broad Street Baptist church of Winston. He was on his way to New York where he occupies the pulpit of Rev. A. C. Dixon tomorrow.

Deputy Sheriff Huffman, of Catawba county, passed through today with two white prisoners for the penitentiary. One of them named Britton for a term of four years for stealing a mule, the other named Matthews, two years for burglary in the second degree. Britton was in a bad humor and tried to keep the deputy from telling the reporter anything about his case or sentence. Well, a man who is mean enough to steal a mule should be heartily ashamed of himself.

Gave 'Em a Song and Dance.

The man with the two little fortune telling birds had a group of Reubens around him this morning and was doing a thriving business. One rustic swain had the picture of his future wife drawn but did not like it. He thought of trying it again but the proprietor solemnly assured him that he would get the same picture every time and he hated to take his money for the same picture over again. He said that in a town in Georgia a man had his fortune told. He had beard a foot long but went away and shaved it off and changed his hat and came back but the bird knew him and he got the same picture again six times straight along. The group listened with round eyes and the man who did not like his future wife concluded he would have to put up with her.

A NEW BRIDGE.

To be Built at Summer's Mill—Plans by Prof. Bandy.

Along the line of public highway improvement we were shown the plan this morning for a new bridge to be built at Summer's Mill, this county. The plan and specifications, including an itemized bill for material and the cost of the same, were drawn and made out by Prof. J. M. Bandy.

The bridge in question will be 150 feet long, with three stone piers and the material will cost $143. The railway, or banisters, will be of white oak, painted with water proof paint. The spans are strengthened and supported by adjustable rods, similar to those used under freight cars. One bridge built on this plan in this county and two in Randolph are giving entire satisfaction. Another bridge of the same description has been contracted for in Randolph, specifications by Prof. Bandy.

Harrison Acquitted.

J. W. Harrison was acquitted in the Superior court at Winston yesterday of the killing of Paul Stockton. The case went to the jury at 6 o'clock and at 7:10 the verdict of not guilty was returned.
